Big Crowd at Sales Satuday.

Ont of the largest crowds seen on the streets for some time was out Saturday and strange to say, a large part of the crowd were men, the majority of which were out in search of bargains at Foster's Fire, Smoke and Water sale at Cummings Dowel mill.

The early train brought in a large number of shoppers and many came from the surrounding towns and when the doors were opened at seven o'clock, between two and three hundred people were waiting to enter. About fifty went in, then the door was closed and at intervals of fifteen or twenty minutes about twenty people were allowed to enter. There was a crowd at the door varying in size, from 7 in the morning until 11 at night and at 12 o'clock the day's shopping closed.

Charles F. Boober and Ernest W. Hutchins were on police duty and held back the crowd at the door. A large force of clerks were engaged who were kept on the move every minute. Among these were Lee Smith, Randall Porter, John Walker, Merritt Welch, Howard Moulton, William A. Bicknell, Fred Cummings, George Holmes, Robie Sturtevant, Mr. Lafiance, Frank Beck, Hubert Barker, Fred Smith, H. D. Smith.

E. M. Swett had his reduction sale Saturday and the store was filled from early morning until late at night with eager purchasers.

V. W. Hills' fire sale, continued throughout the week and Saturday, was well patronized.

H. J. Bangs and C. F. Ridlon held their usual special Saturday sales of groceries and had a large trade.

Monday morning found men and women wending their way to the sales and there was still a good trade throughout town.

People who could not get into Foster's sale, Saturday, came Monday. A number came from a distance Friday night, so as to be on the ground Saturday morning. They came from New Hampshire and Cumberland county, as well as Oxford county.

F. H. Noyes has been having his Reduction Sale and during the day and evening did an extremely good business and in fact all the merchants in town did a thriving business and the largest amount of shopping was done in town Saturday than in any other one day in the history of Norway.

Rather an unusual incident happened Saturday evening on account of "sales" in town during the day and evening. At about midnight, Howard D. Smith, cashier of the National Bank, was called on to go to the Bank, and a number of merchants made some good sized deposits and the spoils of the day were securely locked up in the vault.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Norway Board of Trade Meeting.

About twenty members of the Association met at Engine House Hall last Friday evening. Routine business was done. The conditions of the chapter for the Norway sewer were discussed and some changes in the draft were suggested, and in a general way the matter of sewerage was talked over. It seemed to be the sense of those preaent that the village needs a sewerage system.

Leslie McIntire of East Waterford was present and explained to the association the proposed meeting of the Maine State Seed Improvement Association and the Maine Dairy Inspectors' Association to be held here some time next December. The matter was discussed and it was voted to extend an invitation to these associations to meet here, and it is hoped that it will be accepted and hold their next annual meeting with us. The executive committee were authorized to extend the invitation which no doubt has been done.

Richard Menig and Marion Crockett of Auburn were united in marriage, Tuesday evening at seven o'clock, at the home of Rev. M. C. Ward.

More Fire and Damage.

Once more within the short space of about two weeks Norway has again been visited with a fire, this time in the new I. O. O. F. block, which was just finished last week.

This building is a three-story brick block. During the past summer and winter the two upper stories have been added, and the second floor was to be used by the Norway Municipal Court, the Maine Telephone and Telegraph Company and three private offices, while the hall above or the third story is to be for the use of the Odd Fellows.

Thomas Smiley's dry goods store occupies the ground floor of the building, and Monday morning at 7.15 as Charles Merrill and Robie Sturtevant were at work in the lower part of the store Merrill noticed a crackling sound as of fire burning and glancing at the ceiling saw smoke and flames. Sturtevant immediately gave the alarm of fire and Will Libby, who was near by, pulled in box 28 which is at the corner of Cottage and Main streets.

The firemen quickly responded and in short order a hose was soon playing on the flames. The fire was in the further right hand corner room on the second floor and is the room to be used for the new office of the Maine Tel. & Tel. Co. The company had just got the switch board up and in good running order and it is estimated that the loss to the company is some over $500 and is without insurance.

It is not exactly known how it started but it is thought that it started from the electric soldering iron which had been in use the day previous, it is possible the current was left on.

The fire burned a good sized hole through the floor, burned the switchboard and charred the doors and casing in the room and smoked the hallway considerable but did no damage to the other rooms or the hall above.

Smiley's store which had recently been whitened was considerably wet in the further corner and through to the basement.

The insurance on the building has not yet been adjusted but it is estimated that the loss is between $1,000 and $1600.

Columbia.

Hon. Rev. Luther F. McKinney lectured at the Universalist church, Thursday evening on the "Customs and Natural Advantages of Columbia." The lecture was well attended and Mr. McKinney is a most interesting and convincing speaker.

Mr McKinney was for years United States Minister to Columbia, under President Cleveland's administration. He told us of Bogota situated in the Andes mountains about 700 miles from the sea. The only way to reach it after the trip up the river as far as navigable, is on donkey back or by peons through the mountain passes, some of which are so narrow two cannot pass.

The climate is temperate and the soil very rich and productive. Above are everlasting snows on the tops of the mountains and far down in the valley the tropical climate of South America with its tropical fruits and products. It is a country rich in mines of gold, silver, coal, salt and mineral.

The inhabitants are polite and kind, but they are suspicious of strangers or foreigners to the extent that will not allow them to develop the natural resources of their country. Thieving is practically unknown.

Bogata, the capital, is a city of elegant houses richly furnished, much of which has been brought from France or foreign countries and carried up over the mountains.

Albert Fogg did the decorating for the clerks' ball.

Just at present the crews of brown tail moth hunters are busy. It is a familiar sight to see half a dozen young men start out in the morning with their long moth pruning poles, bags and other moth hunting paraphernalia.

The cast for the Colored Minstrels, Ladies of Aristocracy, is made up of some of our best local talent. Fifty in the company, at the Opera House next Tuesday evening. A whole evening of music and mirth. Don't fail to see it.

Gentlemen's night will be observed on Friday evening at the Grange hall by the Federation of Women's clubs. Supper will be served at 6:45 and will be followed by a lecture by E. H. Forbush of the Audubon Society of Boston. There will also be a short musical program.

James O. Crooker, the hardware man, has purchased of H. B. Foster, two plate glass show cases and is to put them in his store to take the place of the counters now there. These wooden counters have been in the store since it was first built between forty and fifty years ago, and Mr. Crooker feels that he wants to change over and bring things up to look a little more in keeping with the times.

[Communication.]

The Law vs. the Justice.

MR. EDITOR:—The writer noticed an article in the last ADVERTISER in regard to Norway Municipal Court expenses, etc.

Truly here is a case where the "innocent have to suffer for the guilty," for according to said article, the fines, costs, etc, turned over to the county averaged about $300 per annum, and I understand the judge's salary to be $750 and rent of court room $150, or about $2 50 per day yearly, taken out of the innocent taxpayers, and they getting little or no benefit for it in return. This is the "law" but where is the "justice" in it? Fine one man $10 for breaking the laws, and practically fine others that have broken no laws to the extent of $900 yearly, in 5 years the county is "held up" for $4,500.00? This is "law" but we fail to see any "justice" in it.

Justice knows no difference in men or methods when planning to take from others without giving equivalent in return.

The whole code of laws as carried on at the present time, practically come under the head of licensed crime! If a man has his "millions" he can commit most any crime and settle (under the head of "fines") with the lawyers and judges and have his liberty, but a poor man must go to prison "to satisfy justice?"

According to the papers, President Taft, formerly a judge, said in a recent speech "that the courts were becoming corrupt, and the man with the longest purse would generally win."

If this is not equivalent to saying lawyers and judges have "justice" for sale to the highest bidder, what do you call it?

According to the late papers, Chief Justice L. A. Emery of Maine Supreme Bench charged the State for having his "trousers pressed and $2 86 for laundry." State Auditor Hatch justly refused to allow the bill, and the judge was quite indignant about it. Just think of the Chief Justice of Maine "holding up" the State to get money to pay for pressing his trousers and washing his dirty clothes! And this is the kind of justice that is peddled out to the people at high prices by lawyers and judges. If we had less law and more justice it would be far better for the people.

COUNTRY BOY.

The salary of the Norway Municipal judge is $700 and we do not attach blame on Judge Emery even though a bill for pressing of trousers and laundry was sent in to be paid by the State and was thrown out by the watchfulness of the auditor. It was unintentionally included with other bills and was considered a good joke on the judge rather than an attempted judicial graft on the treasury.—[Editor.

17th Annual Clerks' Ball.

The 17th Annual Clerks' Ball, the greatest social event of the season, was held at the Norway Opera House on Tuesday evening, Feb. 14, with an exceedingly large number present.

In years past large sums have been expended and the clerks have put in long, hard hours decorating the hall and putting in elaborate decorations for the event, but this year the clerks decided not to enter into decorating the hall as extensively as has been the custom for the past few years and simply put the decorations on the stage.

Over the center of the stage was a hanging basket of many colored flowers; centered over this were twisted light green and white crepe paper extending to the four walls of the stage. Green and white streamers were artistically draped at the front of the stage, giving a drapery effect. Over the door on the left of the stage was the date 1894 and on the other side 1911, while over the door were the words, "Clerks' Ball." These were in white on heart shaped shields. At the front of the stage was a low fancy fence which divided the stage from the hall. This made a very pretty location for the orchestra which included Given's orchestra of Portland and Stearns' orchestra of Norway, who furnished the music for the dance.

Preceding the dance the orchestras gave a short concert while the dancers were assembling.

There were 96 couples on the grand march which was led by Homer D. Tubbs and Dorothy Tubbs, and the aids and ladies, Carl Boynton and Florence Gordon of South Paris, Harry Luck and Ethel Flord of Oxford, Albert Fogg and Pearl Cook, Carl Harmon and Mrs. Hattie Harmon and George L. Curtis and Mrs. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Lestet Ashton.

The costumes were exceptionally pretty and were of a wide variety of colors. Many of the gowns had been made especially for this occasion.

There were a large number of out-of-town guests present, coming from Auburn, Lewiston, Portland, Mechanic Falls, West Paris, Bryant Pond, Bethel, Waterford and Stoneham. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tarbox, Waterford; T. H. Maybury, North Bridgton; Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, Waterford; Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson, Auburn; Mrs. Carrol Curtis, Oxford; Emma Young, Waterford; R. B. Lamb and C. E. Stewart, Harrison; C. F. Maines, Lewiston; Fred Given, Portland; H. B. Hammond, Lewiston; Catherine Rieger, Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Rounds, Loring Pride, Waterford; John Scruton and John Rafferty, Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Curtis, Oxford; Mrs. I. M. Lunt, Lewiston; F. E. Hazelton, Portland; Roy Conant, Hebron; Louise Atwood, Minot; Howard Glover, Hebron; Eva Dimock, Minot.

John Hazelton of Portland acted as prompter. Mr. Hazelton was a former dancing teacher in town and was welcomed by a large number of old acquaintances who were glad to hear his familiar voice ring through the hall in calling off the dances.

The gallery seats went on sale early Feb 6, and nearly every seat was sold before the day of the ball.

During the evening punch was served by the association at the table at the right of the stage. At intermission, which was about 12 o'clock, an excellent oyster, pastry and salad supper was served at Concert hall by the ladies of the Universalist Circle.

The Circle's committee for this was composed of the following people: Fred H. Cummings, chairman, Mrs. Frank Faunce, Elsie Favor, Mrs. J. N. Favor, Mrs. M P Stiles, Mrs. Frank Mann, Mrs. Emma Mann.

The order of dances consisted of 20 numbers, and it was along toward the small hours of the morning before the last dance was reached. The dance orders were exceptionally pretty, containing a rustic scene against a background of lavendar and green and were tied with white tassels with white pencils.

The committees in charge of the ball this year were:

OXFORD.

Kills Her Son and Herself.

Mrs. Lynwood S. Keene, wife of a formerly prosperous farmer here, shot her 14-year-old son, Gerald, as he lay in his bed Sunday morning, and then went to her room, which she locked, and ended her own life. It had been agreed between Mr. and Mrs. Keene, according to the compact found in her room, that in the event of Mr. Keene's expected death, his wife was to "do away" with herself and their child. Mr. Keene died Saturday. Mrs. Keene fulfilled her part of the contract.

The child was unconsious when found and lived but half an hour, Dr. H. R. Farris, who had responded promptly to the hurry call, being unable to maintain life. Young Gerald never regained consiousness.

Mrs. Keene's door was found locked and was broken in. The body of Mrs. Keene was found stretched on the bed with a bullet hole through the head. She had placed the revolver to the roof of her mouth and fired. As with the son, there was only one wound. The weapon used, a revolver, was found on the bed by her side, where it had been released by her lifeless fingers.

It was insisted upon that she go to bed and try to get some sleep, as she had been many hours without it, and Mrs. Keene went to her room, but some time later those down stairs could hear her walking about, apparently extremely nervous. All those in the house say they heard no shots.

Several notes were found on the dresser in Mrs. Keene's room. One was a letter to Mr. Keene's brother, George Keene of West Poland, which said he was bequeathed certain things in the Keene home and thanking him for his assistance to the family during its time of trouble. Another was addressed to Walter Herrick, hired man on the place, somewhat to the same effect. A third was addressed to Frank Elwell and a fourth to Mrs. Rose Blanchard, the latter of Brockton, Mass.

With these letters, in which apparently all the remaining property of the Keenes was disposed of, was another letter, undirected, sealed like the rest. This was the grim compact. It was dated Jan. 10, 1911, and was signed by both Mr. and Mrs. Keene, although the husband, apparently, had been too feeble in his illness to make more than his mark, his name being written by Mrs. Keene. The document recited briefly the family's troubles, the result of Mr. Keene's illness. Mr. and Mrs. Keene thought it would be wrong to have their son remain in the world to suffer the troubles they had.

Husband wife wished to be buried in a double casket, and that their son's coffin should be placed in the same box for final interment.

About a year ago illness came upon the husband, and he was forced to give up work on his farm they had purchased a few months before. Soon their money was gone and after accepting aid of their relatives, funds were raised on the farm.

The funeral was held Wednesday at the Baptist church. Three coffins rested side by side before the altar. The caskets were covered with flowers. Rev. D. W. Kimball of Mechanic Falls officiated. The bearers were twelve members of the Knights of Pythias to which order Mr. Keene belonged. The Grange and other organizations to which Mr. and Mrs. Keene were members, attended the service in a body. Following the service the bodies were carried to the little cemetery by the church, and here, surrounded by their neighbors and their friends the three coffins were lowered into a single grave.

Downward Course.

Fast Being Realized by Norway People.

A little backache at first.

Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow;

Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Norway citizen.

M. M. Kilgore, Danforth St., Norway, Me., says: "I do not think there is another kidney remedy on the market as effective as Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered from backache and pains through my loins. My kidneys were badly disordered and the secretions passed irregularly. At times my back was so lame and sore that I could scarcely stand. I did not rest well at night and felt miserable in every way. At last I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply from Stone's Drug Store. They cured me and I have been well since. I keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house at all times and recommend them whenever I hear anyone complaining of kidney trouble." 6-7

He Knows. All Right.

Nobody knows of the money it takes
To keep the home together;
Nobody knows the debt it makes,
Nobody knows—but father.
Nobody's told that the boy needs shoes,
And girls a hat with a feather;
Nobody else old clothes must choose,
Nobody—only father.
Nobody hears that the coal and wood
And flour are out together,
Nobody else must make them good,
Nobody—only father.
Nobody's hand in the pocket goes
So often, wondering whether
There's any end to the wants of those Dependent—only on father.
Nobody thinks whence the money will come
To pay the bills that gather;
Nobody feels so blue and glum,
Nobody—only father.
Nobody tries so hard to lay
Up something for bad weather,
And runs behind, do what he may,
Nobody—only father.

My father, mother and two sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me.

Now I weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years." Quick, safe, sure, its the best remedy on earth for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, and all throat and lung troubles. 50c & $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by The Noyes Drug Store. 5-8

Taxes and More Taxes.

The income tax amendment to the constitution of the United States now now going the rounds of the several state legislatures for acceptance or rejection, seems almost certain of approval. Every legislature thus far has given it prompt approval and by a very decisive vote. The reason for the popularity of the income tax amendment is quite apparent. In hunting for new sources of revenue to keep pace with the increasing demands upon the treasury, everybody seeks to devise some scheme which will produce money by taxing somebody else, and as but comparatively few of us have incomes of over $2000 per year, which would be liable to the tax amendment, the plan looks good to the vast majority of the people.

When the States take on themselves to run the charities, the schools, the agricultural socities, the hospitals, the "Homes," the sanatoriums, the colleges, the pests, and other good and praiseworthy things to a greater or less proportional, part it takes some money to make it go. Would it not be better to run the State as a community, something after the pattern of the Shakers? We all want something for nothing, but no one wants to pay "the fiddler."

Something Doing.

Evidently the Democratic sheriffs of Rumford Falls have got busy and are giving some trouble There has been a wholesale raid on the four drug stores. One Homer H. King says in the Times:

Democratic sheriffs are not quite what they ought to be that it takes but a swell-headed rum seller to fool them as I did.

I am hoping they will get the same success they had with me, until June, when Uncle Sam will look for better ones, and so they will be all done breaking trunk locks.

I do not expect to go out of town because they don't know enough to find me.

How to Polish Hardwood Floors.

To repolish hardwood floors melt half a pound of pure beeswax and add a pint of turpentine and half as much ammonia. Stand the mixture over a boiling kettle in order to keep it warm. Apply to the floor with flannel cloth and let stand until quite cold. Now, as to polishing, the merriest and quickest method is to give the children a lark. Collect from the rag bag all the discarded stockings and socks, draw them on over the children's shoes, start a twostep on the piano, and the children will do the rest. If unfortunately your neighborhood offers no children your second choice of a polisher is an adult with a piece of brussels carpet wrapped around a brick.—Harper's Bazar.

How to Clean White Felt Hats.

To clean white felt hats mix powdered magnesia and water into a paste and rub it on the felt with a clean toothbrush. Let it dry thoroughly and then brush out the magnesia, when the hat will probably look quite clean. If this is not the case repeat the process.

Another Customer.

Sir Augustus Lackcash, looking more seedy than ever, entered the tailor's shop and was met by the tailor himself, who welcomed him with a beaming smile.

"My son informs me," said Sir Augustus, "that you have allowed him to run a bill for three years. I have come, therefore"—

"Oh, pray, Sir Augustus," interrupted the tailor, bowing with politeness, "there is really not the slightest hurry, I assure you."

"I know that," returned the knight serenely, "and therefore I have come to tell you that in future I want to get my clothes from you too."—London Telegraph.

Forgetful.

He was a prisoner brought up before his commanding officer for being two hours absent the night before.

"What excuse have you for being absent?" thundered the captain.

"Sure, sir," replied the offender, "I was visiting some of my friends in the country yesterday, and I left in plenty of time to return to the barracks, and when I was about halfway to the barracks I stopped to light my pipe, but the wind was so strong that I had to turn round to light it, and after many tries I succeeded and walked on only to find after an hour's walk that I was at the same place as I had started from, because I had forgot to turn round again after lighting my pipe."—London Mail.

Why He Worries.

"I wish that friend of mine hadn't given me that 'Don't Worry' sign to put over my desk," he said. "I forget all about worrying till I sit down there and take a look at it. Then I worry like the very old Nick."—New York Press.

When a man is buying sensible things he always wants to know what he is going to get for his money; when he is buying foolish things the idea of value received never enters into consideration.

Save Your Fruit From Damage.
THE widespread increase of the codling moth and other insects injurious to fruit trees causes an annual loss to growers of seven million dollars a year. The surest way for you to prevent your fruit from being wormy or badly damaged is to carry out a regular plan of spraying with some reliable material.
SHERWIN-WILLIAMS
NEW PROCESS ARSENATE OF LEAD
is a general insecticide for all leaf-eating insects. It is superior to many other brands on the market, because it contains the arsenic in exactly the right proportion and the proper chemical combination, thus insuring a material that will not injure or scorch the foliage but is sure death to insects feeding on the leaves. It is extremely miscible in water and will combine readily with Lime-Sulfur and Bordeaux Mixture. Light in gravity, it remains well in suspension so that a uniformly poisonous spray can be thrown from the finest nozzle. For prices and further information on this product, come in and see us.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A CHANGE OF FRONT.

The Patron Got Funny, and the Little Waiter Exploded.

Fire Commissioner Waldo and his secretary, Winifred Sheehan, dropped into Shanley's restaurant one day for dinner. Hickey, the little old waiter, had their table.

"The celery is very fine, commissioner," Hickey remarked.

"Let's see. What'll we have, Winnie?" said the head of the fire department, picking up the menu.

"Some celery?" said Hickey, the waiter, ingratiatingly. "It's the finest, tenderest, crispiest we ever had here."

"No, thanks," said Waldo carelessly. "Bring us some Blue Points on the half shell. Want any soup, Winnie?"

"Let me have some cream of celery made for ye fresh," urged the waiter.

"Don't think I care for any soup."

"Pick out a couple of nice double English mutton chops," said the fire commissioner.

"And a portion of celery?" asked Hickey, with pencil poised.

"No!" roared Waldo. "No celery."

"Shall we have a salad?" asked Secretary Sheehan.

"Make you a nice celery salad, gentlemen?" said the wheedling Hickey.

The fire commissioner rose in his wrath. "Look here, Hickey!" he said. "For the last time, no celery. I do not want it raw, baked, broiled or fried. I do not want it as a dessert or a drink, for if you allude to celery tonic you shall be slain where you stand. You've done your duty and tried to get us to take celery by entreaty, threat and force. If you ask me to have the national flower of Kalamazoo again I'll hit you in the nose!"

Hickey mumbled something under his breath and went up stage. He served the ordered items with silent alacrity and then, after the coffee and the check, kept at a respectful distance.

At this juncture Shanley, the proprietor, came by and greeted the fire commissioner and his secretary.

"Look here, Mr. Shanley," said the big commissioner grimly. "I've been coming here a good many years."

"Why, Mr. Commissioner, is there anything wrong?" asked Mr. Shanley quickly.

"Wrong?" roared the fire commissioner. "Wrong? I should say there was! Will you tell me why a customer of this place can't get any celery?"

"Mr. Butler! Mr. Kane! Mike! Larry! Pat! Who's waiting at this table?"

"Hickey!" cried a dozen voices.

"Hickey!" said Shanley scornfully. "Ask the commissioner if he'll have some celery!"

The ire of little Hickey burst all bounds. Facing the boss with a purple face, he replied hoarsely:

"Ask him yourself and go to h—l!"

It took every effort of strength and diplomacy on the part of the convulsed commissioner and his secretary to save the badgered Hickey twice—first his life and second his job.—New York World.

Had a Relapse.

A negro who suffered severe burns upon the face by accident in performance of his work was treated by a physician, who, in default of other material, swathed his features in absorbent cotton. The patient soon felt better and proceeded to roll and light a cigarette, whereupon the cotton caught fire, and the second conflagration was worse than the first. The physician was called in again and gave aid to the injured. "Say, boss," exclaimed the negro, "don't go and tell about this misfortunate accident. Jes' say I had a relapse."

Eloquent Silence.

Two golfers at Pinehurst, one of them an amateur who had been runner up in several big tournaments, were starting out, and a friend from Chicago, who was leaving that afternoon and had packed his clubs, started to walked around with them.

"You can go," said the classy amateur, "if you won't talk. You've got to keep quiet."

They started. The tournament player hooked his drive into the high grass off the first tee, had a lot of trouble getting it out, made a bad putt when he did reach the green and, all in all, looked a fearful duffer.

"I KNOW YOU HAVEN'T SAID ANYTHING."

He topped his ball on the second tee, and it rolled off a few feet. The friend from Chicago was standing by. He had not said a word.

"Dod gast you!" shouted the unlucky amateur. "I know you haven't said anything, but stop your confounded thinking!"—Saturday Evening Post.

It is estimated Maine has 59,209 farms with the value of the products $121,410,904.

A Boy Who Knew How.

An American boy, nineteen years of age, once found himself in London, where he was under the necessity of earning his bread. He was not like many young men of these days, who are "willing to do anything" because they know how to do nothing; but he had learned how to do something, and knew just where to go to find something to do; so he went straight to a printing office and inquired if help were needed.

"Where are you from?" inquired the foreman.

"America," was the answer.

"Ah," said the foreman, "from America, seeking employment as a printer. Well, do you really understand the art of printing? Can you s-t type?"

The young man stepped to one of the cases and in a brief space set up this passage from the first chapter of John:

"Nathaniel said unto him, can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, come and see."

It was done so quickly, so accurately, and administered a delicate reproof so appropriate and powerful, that it at once gave him influence and standing with all the office. He worked diligently at his trade, refused to drink beer or any kind of strong drink, saved his money, returned to America, became a printer, publisher, author, post-master-general, member of Congress, signer of the Declaration of Independence, ambassador to royal courts and finally died in Philadelphia at the age of eighty-four. There are more than one hundred and fifty counties, towns and villages in America named after this same printer boy, Benjamin Franklin.

Premium Award on Turkeys.

In our report of premiums awarded at the recent show of the West Oxford exhibition we accidentally omitted some of the premiums on the turkeys:

Wm. N. Judkins, Paris, got three specials for best Maine grown turkeys, 2 of $1 each and 1 of $3 and on the regular premium offered by the Association he got first on best tom and hen, $1 each, also 3d on same of 50 cents each and 3d, 4th and 6th awards of ribbon.

Surely these are awards worth having and Mr. Judkins has re-established the name of that part of Paris in which he lives as "Turkey Hill" for some years past it was called "Elm Hill," but now he says it can be rightfully called by the old name.

Colors For Mourning.

We are accustomed to think of mourning as necessarily black, though we know that the Chinese wear white instead. But there are other colors as well worn for the purpose of expressing grief for the dead.

The Kings of France, for instance, used to wear purple and something scarlet. Purple is also the mourning color for cardinals.

In Egypt and Burma yellow is worn, probably to signify the "sere and yellow leaf" of hope. Widows' caps among the peasants of Brittany are also yellow.

In Turkey violet is the regular color of mourning and deep blue is the Bokhara color. Brown seems an appropriate color, when we think of earth and ashes. Light brown is worn in Persia and grayish brown in Ethiopia and Abyssinia.

Really, looking them all over, doesn't black seem the saddest and most hopeless shades of all? It ought to mark us Americans and Europeans as the least civilized of peoples.

Wretched Stomach.

Rid it of Gas, Sourness and Fermentation in Five Minutes, with Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets.

Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store Sells Them and Guarantees Them.

You eat food to keep yourself alive. When you put food into a healthy stomach it is the duty of that stomach to extract from the food all of its nutritious matter.

This nutritous matter is passed along to the blood, and in turn is carried to and supplies life to every part of the body.

If your stomach is upset it does not extract enough nourishment to supply the wants of the body, and naturally diseased devolope wherever the body is weakest.

Stomach trouble or indigestion causes dizziness, biliousness, nervousness, weak eyes, sick headaches, sleeplessness, nightmare, waterbrash, belching of sour food, foul breath, despondency, constipation and even loss of energy and memory.

For any stomach trouble, no matter how bad Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store sells and guarantees Mi-o-na stomach tablets to give quick relief and permanent cure, or money back.

The Most Efficient Crop Producers

are those fertilizers which supply plant food in an available form when needed. Swift's Animal Fertilizers are made from animal products—Bone, Meat and Blood—combined with High Grade Potash. They do more than supply fertility—they build up soils for future years.

Biggest Crop He Ever Raised.

I planted five acres of corn this season, having bought your fertilizers through your agent in our town. I used 450 lbs. of Swift's Special Fertilizer to the acre, and notwithstanding the season was very dry, I harvested the biggest crop I ever raised. It was immensely thick and well eared, giving me 600 bushels of ears.

H. H. BROOKS,
Ashby, Mass.

The Grange Prefers Swift's.

At the Grange Meeting last Saturday evening the subject of fertilizers was discussed, what was used, the results, etc. Everything went to show that Swift's goods had the lead. All preferred the kinds that Mr. Blake sold to any and all others that the farmers had used, and Swift's Fertilizers will take the lead here in the future if the standard of the goods is kept as good as now.

Nov. 14, 1910. [Signed] H. A. BLAKE,
Sutton, Vt.

They are adapted to all soils and all crops—for use with or without manure. In your own interests, look into this fertilizer question now—while you have the time. If you don't know who our local agent is, write us. Our free Pocket Handbook gives valuable crop information.

We have some good territory open for responsible agents.

OWES HER HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found, for young girls to build them up and make them strong and well. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has always helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."—Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases.

Eliminating Waste.

It seems to me that the elimination of waste is nearly impossible in households where there are numerous servants; at least, I have found it so with only one, and the waste rises in geometrical progression with the number employed. I have now been doing my own cooking for nearly a year, and I feed my family twice as well on about two-thirds the cost. A large part of the saving comes in the economical use of meat that a cook would give to the dog.

Then I depend a good deal on soups, which I invent to suit my larder. A few cold baked beans, with a little tomato and a bit of meat on a bone, or a little left-over gravy, make a soup that all eat with much pleasure, and it is so nourishing that it goes far to make the dinner.

Most people do not understand how different a soup is when it has simmered a good many hours. The soup that has been boiled fast a couple of hours will tast flat and uninteresting, whereas the same soup five hours later will have such a delicious blend of flavors that all you know is that it is nice, without being able to distinguish the ingredients. Again it is the time that counts.

Cooks waste the coffee and tea horribly. Mix the coffee with cold water the night before with an eggshell, and bring it to a boil in the morning, and you do not need a great deal for a good cup of coffee. The tea in the kitchen is piled into the teapot and thrown out with but little of the goodness extracted.

Another frightful waste is in the coal. I use less than half as much as any girl I ever had, and my stove bakes better. I never complain of the draft, as she does or did after burning all the goodness out of her coal in the first hour after lighting.

There is no way that I know of to eliminate waste except by looking after things yourself.

Peter Nicola, Governor of Penobscots.

With just as much pomp and flourish as attended the inauguration of the Governor of Maine, and many times more brilliance of color and glint of tinsel, the noble red men of the Tarratine or Penobscot tribe of Indians celebrated this week with feasting and dancing the inauguration of Big Chief Peter Nicola as Governor of the tribe.

Nearly every member of the tribe attended the ball, which was held in the hall belonging to the tribe. Music was furnished by the Indian orchestra and the dancers were in full native regalia, their bright tints making the scene both picturesque, and for its historic significance, very interesting.

Governor Nicola and his wife led the grand march, and were followed by the other dignitaries of their tribe with their ladies in more or less accurate order of position, the retiring officials being recognized as in the front rank of Indian society. An interesting feature was the revival of the oldtime dances, such as the war dance, the snake dance, the micmac and other dances.

Years ago the elections on Indian Island, 12 miles above Bangor, where the tribe has its principal village, were exciting events, often attended with scenes of violence and bloodshed, for a Tarratine politician is more inclined to emphasize his arguments with clubs than with honeyed speech. That has all passed now, however, a happy arrangement having been made, at the suggestion of the two divisions of the tribe, known as the "Old Party" and the "New Party," or the conservatives and liberals, respectively, take turns in governing the settlement.

Governor Nicola is of the New Party, and he is an able man in many ways. He is a great hunter, fisherman and guide, knows how to build graceful birch canoes and weave wonderful baskets, is something of a farmer and a natural politician. He has lived in Rangeley for several summers and run a store where he has had on sale the various articles that they make.—[Maine Woods.

FALLS VICTIM TO THIEVES.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health for twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now. Unrivaled for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia. 25c. The Noyes Drug Store. 5-8

MOCK BEEFSTEAK.

How to Make and Serve the Dish In Attractive Ways.

In these days of high prices a mock beefsteak is an acceptable substitute for the genuine one. The housekeeper should try molding her "Hamburg steak" into less commonplace forms. Often the beef is molded somewhat like an ordinary beefsteak. The platter should be prettily garnished with parsley and lemon, or it may be decorated after the manner of a "planked" steak, with a border of mashed potato an djust enough baked tomatoes or stuffed green peppers to serve one to each person at the table.

Another appropriate platter decoration is easily accomplished by heaping little piles of particolored vegetables at intervals around the mock beefsteak. Potato balls, diced carrots and string beans are a favorite combination of color and transform the humble "Hamburg steak" into quite a festive dish.

Another way is to have the chopped beef shaped into the form of lamb chops, each decorated with a frill of tissue paper fastened to a toothpick. These may be made by the children of the household in the evenings, and as they cost nothing and give a decided air of daintiness to the simplest dish they are well worth while. Often these little imitation chops are arranged to stand on a bed of parsley and rest against a pretty bowl filled with stewed tomato. A spoonful of the tomato should be served with each portion. These little chops of beef may rest on a bed of mashed potatoes if preferred, or it is a pretty idea to place a baked potato between each chop just before serving, gently open each potato and place a piece of butter in the opening.

Another attractive way of serving the same dish is to place these little chops in an overlapping row on the platter, each chop decorated as before with its little paper frill. Tomato sauce or slices of broiled fresh tomato may decorate the edge of the platter.—Delineator.

A DOUBLE CHIN.

How to Get Rid of One by Paying Attention to Diet and Exercise.

If you have a double chin you must give up the wearing of tight collars, as they never fail to give one the baggy pouch of the confirmed double chin. See to it that your stocks are loose and not very high. If your neck is not too thin for the fashion make a practice of wearing the collarless dresses so popular now. They will give your throat an opportunity to bend and turn, and in this way the muscles get the needed exercise. Tight high collars hold the throat as in a vise, and the muscles underneath the chin become flabby. Eating between meals and late at night is sure to cause a double chin and very often a triple chin. If you eat lobster a la Newburg or perhaps a sweet just before retiring you will be sure to wake up next morning with an extra layer of flesh under your pretty chin.

A strenuous exercise warranted to reduce chins is as follows: Stand erect in front of your mirror, put a hand on either hip and take a deep breath, filling the lungs to the fullest extent. Hold the breath and hit your extra chin ten sharp blows with the back of your hand. Strike hard enough to make the tears come to your eyes. Now exhale. Once more inhale and slap the unwanted folds of flesh with your left hand. If you will practice this exercise for five minutes every morning the extra chin will melt away in a very short space of time.—New Idea Woman's Magazine For June.

How to Keep Cut Flowers.

Choose flowers that are not quite fully out and cut them early in the morning with long stems. Arrange them not too close together in a vase deep enough to immerse two-thirds of the stems. By previously putting some pieces of charcoal in the vase the water can be kept sweet, but in any case it should be changed every five or six days. Keep the vase always full of water. Keep the flowers in a cool but not too drafty place. Certain flowers do much better if a small portion of the stem is cut off, especially if they have been carried a long way, and a certain number are better for slicing the stems up so as to let them absorb the water more easily. This is especially so with flowers that are apt to go off quickly, like the hellebores.—Gardening Illustrated.

The Worst to Come.

"I love you, dear, but I am green and rattled, and I don't know how to propose."

"That's all right, honey. You're through with me. All you've got to do now is to ask papa."—Cleveland Leader.

DON'T SUFFER Another Day With RHEUMATSIM

TERPENE CAMPHOR COMP. is a certain cure, no form of Rheumatism can resist this wonderful medicine. Only a few drops three or four times daily are required, and the pain, stiffness and swelling vanish as if by magic.

It makes no difference how long you have suffered, all conditions, acute or chronic, are quickly relieved and cured.

TERPENE CAMPHOR COMP. will cure nothing but rheumatism, for which purpose it is recommended and guaranteed. It will not injure the stomach or heart like most other medicines. Doctors recommend it.

Smith Creek, Fla., May 10, 1910.

Mr. T. F. Eaton, Dear Sir:—I used the treatment you sent, in the case of a little boy of four years, suffering with acute muscular rheumatism, and the TERPENE CAMPHOR COMP. acted like magic. The child at beginning of the treatment was unable to turn in bed, and now is active as any boy and never complains of any pain, swelling entirely gone, and no inflammation whatever. I am well pleased with the compound and shall use it whenever I have a rheumatic patient.

Yours truly
B. F. DYKES, M. D.

TERPENE CAMPHOR COMP. $1 00 the bottle (2 weeks treatment) at all druggists or by mail upon receipt of price.
